1. The Do's And Don'ts Of Storing Electronic Data

Facilitated by Nenad Ristic

This session will provide you with sound and credible advice on how to store your electronic data correctly. Each year the amount of electronic data that co-ops are required to store grows exponentially. Co-ops must ensure that they can trust the processes they have in place to secure and preserve this information. Come and learn from an expert on how you can implement secure ways to store data and protect your housing co-ops future.

3. New Member Orientation: I'm In! Where Do I Go From Here?

Facilitated by Susan Farmer & Mary Emro

Do you remember the first time you knew that living in a co-op was different than living anywhere else? Looking back, are there things you wish someone had told you about the co-op lifestyle? This interactive workshop will explore how we can provide new members with better skills and tools to become involved co-op members and build stronger co-op communities.

2. Ageing-In-Place Panel Discussion

Facilitated by Cheri McDougall, Carrie-Ann French, Patty Wozak, Alison Grittner, Erin Viala and Brenda Davies

Ageing in Place is defined as “the ability to live in one’s own home and community safely, independently, and comfortably, regardless of age, income or ability level.” One of the leading issues facing our housing co-ops is that many of our members are ageing. We are now called upon to help facilitate the necessary resources to accommodate them. Please join us for this interactive discussion and find ways that will help guide your housing co-ops navigate around this most pertinent issue.

4. Mental Health In Our Communities

Facilitated by Carol A. Daw

Mental Health Awareness has become headline news and for good reason. Housing Co-ops are experiencing difficulties at times with individuals that may be living with or suffering from a mental illness. This workshop will focus on the warning signs that may present themselves and teach us how to recognize that you may be dealing with someone with a mental health issue. Come and learn how you can facilitate strategies and find resources to handle these situations.
