

In R-E-S-P-E-C-T Part I, the focus was on understanding how the attitudes, perceptions and myths within our housing co-op communities can hinder communication and serve to push members away. Part Two in the series, “Principled Leadership and Our Core Values and Beliefs” is designed to help us explore strategies that will help us handle difficult situations and people while building trust and respect in our communities. Topics will include but are not limited to the following:

- Bullying
- Contentious Board Members and Issues
- Effective Chairing
- Confidentiality
- Employment Law
- Bylaws and Policies that support them
